WHEN THE DUMB SPEAK.

Many Instances. Where. Fright. Restores the Power.

The recent case of Miss Lily Curl, of Ashford, Kent, who, after being deaf and dumb for twenty-one years, is slowly recovering both hearing and speech—the shock of the tragic end of her brother, who drowned himself in the Stour, being regarded as responsible for the miraculous recovery is by no means an isolated example of shock succeeding where the doctors have failed.

Some time ago the narrow escape of a boy from drowning off North Shields Fish Quay had a remarkable sequel, says London Tid-Bits. While efforts were being made to restore the apparently drowned boy to consciousness by means of artificial respiration, a man named Thomas Cummings, who had been deprived of his powers of speech two years earlier, as the result of an accident, pushed through the crowd merely out of curiosity. As soon as he saw the prostrate although not in any way related to him, the sight gave him such a shock that his speech suddenly returned, and he fell to the ground in a state of collapse. Upon recovering he continued to speak freely, and has suffered no further impediments since.

One of the most amazing cases was that of Walter Speck, a resident of Gloucester, who eight years ago lost his power of speech through a shock occasioned by the death of his father. For several weeks his wife was only able to understand him by watching the movements of his lips, and he gave up all hope of ever recovering his speech. Being a football enthusiast, he one day witnessed a Gloucester vs. Cheltenham match, and when the city team scored, Speck, in his excitement, forgot that he had been deprived of his voice, and attempted to cheer with the rest of the crowd. To his amazement and that of his friends, his shout was heard above that of any of those standing near. Since then Speck has been able to converse as well as ever, and there is no likelihood of his speech failing him.

One of the medical journals tells of how the fear of an accident was once the means of restoring speech to a dumb man. Mr. J. Moore, of Gosport, had been dumb for years, when, on returning home one evening, his bicycle skidded. In his alarm, he shouted, and wasso startled and surprised at hearing his voice that he called out again and again, until he was convinced that his long-lost voice had come back to him.

It is not many years since a remarkable case of dumbness excited a great deal of interest in medical circles in Germany. Twelve months earlier a Bavarian cattle dealer had been kicked by a horse, with the result that he completely lost the use of his voice. A year later he was riding a doomed horseto the knacker's yard, when the animal, who clearly

Truck Replaced Three Teams

In eleven months this three-ton Kessel-Kar Truck covered in actual service 4,760 miles at a fuel cost of $1.08 per day. Manned by a driver and one helper, it replaced three teams of horses. The average daily burden was 37 17.20ths tons. It carried an average load of four tons—one ton overload—but in the entire period named, was laid up only two and one-half hours for repairs.

"We can recommend the Kessel-Kar Truck and assure that it lives up to its guarantee," writes Thomas E. Fleischer, manager of the Sheboygan Lime Works.

Two and one-half hours for repairs, carrying over 37 tons per day is a record worthy of notice. Kessel-Kar Trucks cost little to maintain and are economical to operate because the problem is solved in Kessel-Kar construction.

Note these striking Kessel-Kar features—Simple engine—easy to operate—reserve power—excess capacity—differential lock preventing one drive wheel absorbing all the power on slippery places, and stalling the truck—four speed transmitters geared up—fourth speed permitting high speed when desired without racing engine; 15 to 20 per cent. lower fuel consumption than average trucks—light spring suspension for power plant, heavy spring suspension for load—gauge that weighs load—greatest accessibility—easy control—larger brake drums, and extra powerful brakes—special bodies designed to meet every need.

Kessel-Kar Trucks

1500 lbs.-1-2-3-4 and 5 Tons

In the range of capacity, 1500 lbs. to 5 tons, you can find just the type that fills your requirements—and with the Kessel-Kar Truck goes the Kessel-Kar Service, which is the manufacturer's guarantee of satisfaction.

Kessel-Kar Service means taking off your hands all of the mechanical details. A special service building is maintained in this city for the benefit of Kessel-Kar owners. The Kessel-Kar service is a broad and comprehensive arrangement between manufacturer and owners that cares for the car, maintains efficiency, retards depreciation and minimizes upkeep. This service is a valuable consideration in the purchase of a power wagon. Investigate it.

Ask us to analyze your present horse haulage ss compared to motor haulage. The result will be interesting.

had plenty of life left in him, began to kick and plunge in a dangerous manner. The man, we are told, lost his head completely in wild excitement, and after a few minutes began to talk, completely regaining his powers of speech, to the boundless astonishment of his friends.

Use Trolley for Torture.

An extraordinary scene was witnessed in Calcutta recently when a small trolley, studded with rows of iron spikes, on which a Hindu was lying at full length, was being pulled through the streets. A large crowd was following. Inquiries elicited the information that the man was doing penance, and was on his way to the temple of the goddess Kali, at Kallighat. The Hindu had been several days on the journey, and was in a terrible condition.

The spikes, which numbered about 150, were quite large and sharp, and the man wore only a loin cloth. He must have been suffering acute pain, from the fact that his body was bruised and lacerated all over as a result of lying on the sharp nails. Neither the police nor any passer-by made any attempt to stop the self-imposed torture.

Mexican Is King, of Millionaires.

Land holdings are concentrated to a greater degree in Mexico today than they were in France in 1789. Seven thousand families hold practically all the arable land. If the distribution were proportionally the same as it is in the United States, one million Mexican families would be in possession of titles to landed property.

The general result of this system in Mexico is that the country has fallen far behind her neighbors in everything that stands for progress. The well-to-do are too far away from the poor to be of any use to them, and the poor are too poor to be of any use to themselves or to society. While tremendously rich in natural resources, Mexico is very poor when it comes to production. Especially is Mexico poor in agricultural production. The million-acre farms lie mostly fallow. Modern machinery is needed, but the modern machinery will never be introduced so long as the peon is so cheap that primitive methods are cheaper than machine methods.

Mexico has no home market to speak of, for only a small proportion of the population ever has any money to spend for anything. Many of the richest families live in Europe and never visit the country from which they derive their sustenance. As to the rest, it may be said that the population of Mexico is only 3,000,000. The other twelve million are cattle, or may be classed as cattle, so far as furnishing a home market is concerned.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging

Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave

Up in Despair. Husband

Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
